

ACTIVITY TIME

coveryourtracks.eff.org

What Is Browser Fingerprinting?

When you visit a website, your browser shares information:

- Device type and operating system
- Screen resolution and color depth
- Installed fonts and plugins
- Time zone and language settings
- Browser version and settings

Combined together, these create a unique "fingerprint" that can identify you—even without cookies.